Have you ever had an OSHA official stop by unannounced?

We hope not, but join us on April 18 to ensure you know what to do when OSHA comes knocking. The new administration may bring changes to the OSHA program, but one thing will not change; the agency will still be conducting inspections. Join us to hear from Ed Foulke and Pat Tyson, two former OSHA officials, as they break down how to best prepare for an inspection, provide guidance on what to do when an inspection occurs, and what follow up is needed post inspection. They will be sharing their decades of knowledge on what to do-and not to do-when OSHA is at your door.
